SPECTACULAR DISPLAY — These traditional Fourth of July professional fireworks are a hallmark of America's celebration of its Independence. But Carmel has its own Fourth of July tradition. In the evening, hundreds of families gather on the beach, build campfire and set off their fireworks. This is the only place in the city limits fireworks are permitted. But it is an impressive sight—the campfires silhoutting the mass of people—the fireworks intermittently lighting the entire area. It's a great sight.

Doubles Match To Open Tennis Festival Action

Can Y. A. Tittle and Matt Hazeltine survive the big serve of Jack Frost and Dick Sargent's sleight of hand?

This soul-disturbing question, along with others such as, "Will the real Jim Brown stand up?" and "Which one is Cornel Wilde?" will be answered Friday at 11 a.m. with the beginning of the 4th annual Celebrity Tennis Festival at Pebble Beach.

The July 4-5-6 matches unveil a field of 38 tennis buffs of varying talents in a multiple court round-robin, that closes with mixed doubles 30 minutes before the cocktail hour.

Frost, one of the top international tennis stars in an era when it was worth money to be an amateur, is paired with Dick Sargent, lately the leading man of "Bewitched."

The court one match, described by Pebble Beach tennis pro Don Hamilton as an "interesting test of brain against brawn," will be contested under the 31-point VASS System.

"If Dick is playing up to his game," Hamilton said, "he'll stay outside the baseline and challenge those bulls to hit him."

"As for Frost, he's been running every morning to get in shape. He knows that there's a lot of court to cover," Hamilton went on.

The second court for the morning's matches will feature Chronicle super columnist Herb Caen and his steady tennis partner, attorney Sandy Walker, in what could be an upset over Fernando Roca and John Lupton.

"Roca, a former Argentine champion with a number of TV credits, and Lupton, series star of "Days of Our Lives," will probably choke thinking about what could happen to their press releases," mused Hamilton.

Last year's singles finalist, Lee Holley, creator of "Pony Tail," joins fast climbing Doug McClure in a four-court match with Cornel Wilde and Yvan Nopert, Carmel restaurateur and former Belgian Davis Cup player.

This could be a good one, according to Hamilton.

"Holley is tough and stays in condition, while I understand McClure has been taking almost daily lessons since last year.

As for Jim Brown and his standing: winner of last year's singles here, Brown is considered by many to be the movies' top player. He is teamed with Tony Hayes against Dave Wisnom and David Hartman in the fourth morning match.

Clint Eastwood and his tennis playing friend, Ken Green, share court one with Efrem Zimbalist Jr. and Paul Fay Jr. in the afternoon's stellar attraction.

Letters To The Editor

(In the June 19 issue we viewed with alarm the apparent demise of Assembly Bill 5, which would correct a dangerous clause in Assembly Bill 272 which would become effective in 1971, and remove the necessity of school districts asking the voters for more money — they would be able to levy taxes without hinderance.

We editorially asked newly elected Assemblyman Bob Wood to find out about AB 5.

Here is his answer.
Like, quick service!)

Editor,
The Carmel Pine Cone
Dear Mr. Brown:

I have read your recent editorial with considerable interest and am pleased to respond to your request for support for Assembly Bill 5.

As you know Assembly Bill 5 was introduced to repeal Section 20751.1 of the Education Code. This provision would, after July 1, 1971, place the responsibility for maximum school tax rates on the shoulders of local school boards, instead of requiring a school tax override vote by the people. There are many good arguments on both sides of this matter—including the statement that we shouldn't treat school boards any differently from other local governing bodies such as the Boards of Supervisors, or that such a responsibility on local school board would make them

TALENTED CAST — In "Ernest In Love," the musical adaptation of Oscar Wilde's celebrated comedy "The Importance Of Being Earnest," which is now playing nightly except Monday and Tuesday at the Studio Theatre-Restaurant, two of the Victorian lovers are Jack Worthing (Nick LeFeuvre, Jr.), here taking his hat and stick from his man Perkins (Larry Parker), and Gwendolen Fairfax (Suzann Newell) who is attended by her maid Alice (Bridget Hildebrand). Reservations for dinner and show or show alone may be made at 624-1661 or 624-2321.

'Ernest In Love' Is Frolicsome, Slick Musical Comedy Playing At Studio

"Slick" describes this frolicsome musical adaptation of one of Oscar Wilde's most successful comedies, "The Importance of Being Earnest," which translates musically to "Ernest In Love."

"Ernest In Love" opened at the Studio Theater-Restaurant last week, and when they advertise an all star cast, they mean just that.

Nick LeFeuvre Jr., as Jack Worthing is back, and his great voice and fine sense of timing and comedy make him more than welcome.

Rod Allison is one of the brighter young stars to appear on the Carmel theater scene recently, and as Algernon Moncrieff, turns in a sparkling performance.

Suzann Newell, blonde and lovely as Gwendolyn, and the irrepressible Luann Brown as Cecily Cardew, play the girls who receive the attentions of Jack and Algernon.

Anita Tonn as Lady Bracknell deserves praise for her portrayal of the unshakeable Victorian mother of Gwendolyn.

The rest of the cast contribute superb performances to "Ernest In Love" and make it one of the funniest comedies to appear on the local scene in some time.

Guest director Charles Thomas has done a superlative job in maintaining a well-paced production, which has some inborn qualities that could tend to make it drag.

Special mention must go to Judy Evans for the costuming, since the play is set in Victorian times, and the leg-'o-mutton sleeves and ground sweeping hemlines call for imagination and certainly considerable research.

Sets and lightings by Bob Evans are exceptional, and the entire production is done with a high degree of skill. . . . And I will say it, I will, I will. . . .

Walter Jones is a great chef. His food is outstanding, so be sure to have dinner first, then enjoy the show.

Of course, you'll have to make reservations for "Ernest," which runs Wednesdays through Sundays until August 7, when "George M!" opens.

To get those reservations, call 624-1661 or 2321.

Last year's club champion Green, has had Eastwood playing golf for the last two weeks in preparation for the test. (Zimbalist is co-holder of the '68 Celebrity Doubles Title. Fay shared the same laurels in '67.)

Joining in the introductory ceremonies will be honorary official referee, Peter Herb, referee Paul Lippman, and ticket chairman, Ann Hess.

Single day and tournament tickets are available throughout the Monterey area and at Del Monte Lodge.

Carmel Barracudas Take First Meet

Carmel Swim Club defeated the Watsonville team at their first home meet of the season on Saturday at the Carmel High School pool.

Carmel coaches Brian Morton and Jim Fausnot were pleased with the victory and are looking forward to improved performances by all in future meets.

The outstanding Carmel swimmers were Beth Copsey taking first in the "Girls 8 and Order" 25 yd. freestyle, 25 yd. butterfly and 25 yd. backstroke; Jim Chalkley taking first place in the "Boys 11-12" 50 yd. freestyle, 50 yd. butterfly and contributed to the win in the "Boys 11-12" 200 yd. medley relay; Kathy Neill winning first place in the "Girls 13-14" 100 yd. freestyle, 50 yd. backstroke, and 200 yd. individual medley.

The next meet for the Carmel squad will be Saturday, June 5 against Salinas at the Carmel High School pool.

Suhobeck Second In Chess Tourney

Members of the Monterey Peninsula Chess Club made a strong showing in the Fifth Annual Monterey International Chess Tournament last weekend.

Alex Suhobeck, Monterey County champion, finished in second place with 4 wins and 1 draw in the field of 85 participants. B. Lainson tied for second in Class A, while Stan Mac Carty, S. Barrett Williams and Jerry Jennings tied for first in Class B.

Virgil Pope took top honors in Class C and Ron Atkinson took the top trophy in Class D.

The event was won by Tom Lux of Sun Valley, Ida., who bested William Addison, internationally known master, in the final round.

NEW COMMO—Carmel Police Sergeant Les V. Fletcher checks an incoming message on the department's newest addition to its communications network. This unit is the California Law Enforcement Telecommunication System which puts the Carmel Police in instant communication with just about every other police department in the state. Heretofore it was necessary to obtain information on criminals from the sheriff's office in Monterey, but now, Carmel police can check out a man's record in minutes.

New Officer For Carmel Police

The Carmel Police Department has a new police officer today.

He is Phillip DeMaris Tabayoyon, a native of the Philippines and an Army veteran.

He graduated from high school in the Philippines, where he entered the U.S. Army. He has subsequently attended Eastern University in Manila, Austin Peay State College and the Defense Language Institute at the Presidio in Monterey.

In other Carmel Police Department action, both Walter Boyle and Eddie Fischer were promoted to sergeant.

Clean Sweep Crew To Work on Beach

That the Carmel Beach may remain pure and clean, three Boy Scout Troops and 40 Carmel High School students will give up part of the 4th of July weekend to see that it does.

On the evening of July 4, three Boy Scout troops from the Peninsula area, under the direction of Steve Grant, will begin to sweep the beach starting at 13th Street and Scenic Drive.

Another group, high school students of Mrs. Phyllis Davies, will clean the north end of the beach beginning about 9 a.m. on July 5.

This group of students, about 40 in all, will begin at Ocean Avenue and work both ways.

Anyone else who would like to lend a hand is perfectly welcome, according to Carmel Mayor Barney Laiolo.

more responsible to local control. Also, it would eliminate the dozens of hodgepodge exceptions to maximum school tax rates which now exist in our Education Code (they exist because individual assemblymen have introduced "except bills" when it appeared local school bonds wouldn't command the support of the electorate).

To me, however, the real question here is 'What effect would this 1971 change have upon the local property taxpayer?' This thorny question is the most pressing concern to the taxpayer, and that is why I agree that the Carmel Pine Cone has voiced a legitimate dissent in supporting AB-5, it would have struck out altogether the 1971 clause from the Education Code but it was originally held in a sub-committee of the Assembly Education Committee. Now, however, it has been amended, passed out of the Assembly Education Committee and is pending before the Assembly Ways and Means Committee. The amendments change the effective date of the repeal of the statutory maximum from July 1971 to 1973 and state the intent of the Legislature to proceed with the development of expenditure level controls for school districts to replace the present ineffective statutory tax rate ceilings.

I am not sure we have yet reached the necessary solution to this problem. I believe our foremost need is for the enactment of meaningful tax relief for our over-burdened property owners. I am pledged to this end and I intend to support AB-5. In my recent campaign, I pledged myself to uphold the right of the electorate to maintain control over its own tax affairs and I fully intend to honor my commitments.

Sincerely,
Bob Wood
Assemblyman,
34th District

'Walter Mitty' To Circle July 11

At Carmel's Circle Thea-Community Theater of the ter on Friday, July 11, the Monterey Peninsula will open a new musical entitled "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty," by Joe Manchester, Leon Carr, Earl Shuman, and based on the classic story by James Thurber.

Walter Mitty is a wistful little man, creating elaborate fantasies in which he is always the hero. Although Thurber's story takes place in Connecticut, Mitty is a universal character in whom we all recognize something of ourselves.

He has become a legend. Mitty, escaping in daydreams from the straitjacket of reality, finds that life's only triumphs come in "The Secret Life."

After its opening on July 11th, "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty" will play Wednesdays through Sundays at 8:30, alternating weekly through Labor Day with "Sweet Charity."

Reservations and group discount bookings are now being accepted at the theater box office by phoning 624-2669.

NEW MANAGERS — Craig and Pat Bowen, who have assumed managership of the Perry House Art Gallery in Monterey.

NATIONAL ACADAMICIAN — Donald Teague is shown standing in front of his Moroccan market place scene which is now on loan to the Perry House. The painting will soon find permanent hanging in San Francisco's Bohemian Club. It is a good example of Teague's work, although the scene could have been painted, almost the same, centuries ago. It is noticeable that the young lady in the foreground is holding part of her veil in her mouth, revealing part of her face as if she were still hanging on to some ancient custom.

Craig and Pat Bowen Will Manage Art Gallery in Historic Perry House

By Louise Cook

To celebrate the transfer of ownership of the Perry House Gallery a happy group gathered to wish success to the new owners, Craig and Pat Bowen.

This unique gallery with the exciting view of Monterey Bay, located in the Historic Perry House on Van Buren St., has a select group of artists represented.

Among them are three National Acadamicians Nan Greacen, Maurice Logan and Donald Teague.

The party guests were surrounded by such temptations as water colors by Rene Weaver and C. C. Beall, familiar local scenes of sea and countryside by William Timmins and the endearing daisies of Mary Agnes Lansdowne.

Donald Teague and Joseph Henninger contributed nostalgic views of Europe and North Africa. Choice work by Jack Swanson and Beth Garcia may also be seen.

Since arriving on our fair shores last fall, Craig Bowen and his charming wife and co-worker, Pat, have lent their talents in numerous civic endeavors: publicity chairmen for the Monterey Peninsula Hotel Assoc. Heart Fund Party; Pat wrote and they both modeled, for the Adobe Tour fashion show; Crag is currently working on programs for the forthcoming Bicentennial celebration.

The Bowens make their home in Carmel where Craig now operates "Bowen Advertising." Having spent many years as an executive in some of the nation's top ad agencies, he brings to the area a wealth of experience in the world of communications. Craig's ads have appeared in Look, Life, and Sports Illustrated.

Some of you may have caught the one man show by C. Craig Bowen at the Crocken Citizens Pebble Beach Bank the month of June.

Bowen has had paintings shown at the Detroit Institute of Art, and the American Association of Advertising Agencies' "Fine Arts in Advertising" at Greenbrier. Grosse Pointe Annual Garden and Art Show. "Artist in Advertising" show, N.Y. & Bloomfield Hills. N.Y. Art Directors Show. Monterey Peninsula Home Show.

Mrs. Bowen, who has an extensive background in the field of talent hunting and representing artists will be responsible for setting policy and managing the gallery.

The Bowens feel the current slogan "Only the Finest of Fine Art" set down by Mary Agnes Lansdowne, former director of the gallery, is not only a policy they are determined to follow but a challenge as well.

Historic Perry House was saved from demolition and restored by Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Downer who have selected the Bowens as the new gallery lessees . . . the Bowens feel they're mighty lucky to have the Downers as landlords . . . good vibrations all around.

Forest Theater's Summer Program

On Sunday afternoon, July 6 at 2 p.m., the Carmel Cultural Commission under the management of Cole Weston will present the first program of the "1969 Sunday Afternoon Concert Series" at the Forest Theater, Mountain View and Santa Rita, Carmel.

Once again the Fort Ord Band will perform as the lead-off concert.

The programs scheduled for the following Sundays are:

July 13th, David Abel, Violinist; July 20th, Peter Evans, Guitarist; July 27th, Ishvani, Dancer from India; August 3rd, Dance Troubadoors, Angene Feves & Ballet Company; August 10th, Lockheed Bagpipe Band; August 17th, Opera Workshop, Nancy Ness Bowman; August 24th, La Mariquita, Juan Thompson, Spanish Dancer, Flamenco Guitarist; August 31st, Peninsula Chamber Music Society.

All programs start promptly at 2 p.m. and are free to the public.

"Predatory Bird" by Ellwood Graham

July Show At MPMA Will Feature Outstanding Work By Ellwood Graham

Exhibiting at the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art during the month of July will be Ellwood Graham, well-known area artist.

Graham was awarded this one-man show as one of the winners of last year's sixth annual Monterey County Painting Competitive, a juried show sponsored by the Museum Association every year.

Trained at the St. Louis School of Fine Arts, where he received a scholarship, his dedication and craftsmanship have won him a wide following, not only locally, but across the country.

His works are included in the permanent collection of many major American museums including the Whitney in New York, the Los Angeles, th Santa Barbara, De Young and the San Francisco, and locally the Monterey Peninsula and Carmel museums.

He is also represented at the Chicago and San Francisco Art Institutes and the University Museums of New Mexico and Long Island's Adelphi.

Among the many private collectors of Graham canvasses are Henry Miller, Burgess Meredith, Paulette Goddard, Charles Feldman and the late John Steinbeck and Robinson Jeffers. The latter two were both close personal friends and both had a profound influence on his career.

Active for many years on the local art scene, Graham is currently president of the Carmel Art Association. He has had 37 one-man shows throughout the United States and Mexico and has won 55 awards in national and regional competitions.

The Monterey Peninsula Museum is doubly pleased to be presenting Graham's show during July. Not only will his colorful collection, especially painted for this exhibit, be an exciting addition to the Artists Studio Open House when the museum will be included for the first time on this Studio Tour which it sponsors, but it is also particularly timely that these works will be on display during the presentation of Carmel's annual Bach Festival, for the New York critics, who usually compare contemporary painters with master artists of the past, reviewed his first one-man show there with the praise, "He paints like Bach."

The usual Preview-Reception for the exhibiting artist will not be held this month. Instead, Graham will be at the museum to greet the Studio Tour-goers on July 12th from 11 to 5. The Studio Tour Tea will be held this year at the Museum from 3 to 5, and Mrs. Graham has been asked to share her husband's honors that day by presiding at the tea table.

The exhibition will be open to the public from July 2 through 30. Gallery hours are 11-5 weekdays and 2-5 Saturdays.

The Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art is located on Lincoln St., between Ocean and 7th in Carmel.

Gunnar Norberg Wonders About the Carmel Playwrights of Yesteryear

by Gunnar Norberg

"Nothing less than the story of the human race, done as a sober caricature, now serious, now humorous, sometimes wordy, often rewarding, is the stuff of "Watch-Pit," a new play by Kit Jones now being offered by the Chelsea Theater Center at the Brooklyn Academy of Music. . . .

"The three-act work . . . affords the real theater buff an excellent opportunity to see a bright new playwright in the process of creativity. Mr. Jones tells a story that jumps in and out of the Book of Genesis but comes from a Bible-type history of his own devising. . . ."

These are the words of the New York "Times" theater critic who reviewed Kit Jones' "Watch-Pit" in his paper last Jan. 30.

And just who's Kit Jones?

He was brought up here, he went to school here, he became an Engle Scout here, he was taught acting here by Charles Thomas, and at UCLA as a theater arts major where he won a "best actor" award and other awards for playwrighting, and then he went to New York.

His parents still live here. His father is architect Robert Jones.

His dawning career in the New York theater is mentioned here not only because he is starting to attract significant attention in the city which has long been mecca to theater folk, but also to help give point to the argument that talent in the theater not only emerged here splendidly in years long past, but that it occasionally does so nowadays as well, and that it can be encouraged to bud and blossom here in the future as it did frequently a generation or two ago.

For five years the City Council and its consultants and commissions have tried variously to make the point that the city's Sunset Center should be devoted mainly to cultural rather than to the community or municipal activities which many voters had felt should share the Center.

But there has never been any general unanimity as to just what the culture to be encouraged at Sunset should be, beyond the obvious acceptance of the long established uses which had existed at Sunset before it became city property — those of the Carmel Music Society, Monterey County Symphony, Carmel Bach Festival.

Those three organizations — Music Society, Symphony, Bach Festival — use the auditorium and immediately adjacent rooms at Sunset, only some 75 nights a year. Other occasional users of those same facilities usually stand in no planned relationship to any long-term municipal cultural purpose. And at least part of this is, of course, due to the fact that city authorities have so far found no generally accepted cultural path to follow on a long-term basis with regard either to the interior theater at Sunset or to the outdoor stage facilities at the city-owned Forest Theater.

Once — and for a long time — Carmel's cultural path was quite clear. It was theater, mainly home-grown, with an emphasis on original plays, sometimes written here, sometimes not. When the Forest Theater opened in 1910, it was the first such community outdoor theater in the country, as the late Herbert Heron often said, and the play with which the theater opened had its world premiere there.

The play was "David" and the author was Constance Lindsay Skinner who became a widely known writer of her day. (The noted artist, Ferdinand Burgdorff of Pebble Beach, was an actor in that 1910 play).

Local playwrights, some of whom won world acclaim, saw their plays first performed here in Carmel.

Sidney Howard's first play, "Sons of Spain," was first produced at Carmel's Forest Theater. Howard later won the Pulitzer prize for his play, "They Knew What They Wanted." Other well-known Howard plays are "Silver Cord" and "Alien Corn."

Uelsmann Photos At Sunset Today

The Friends of Photography will have an opening of an exhibition of photographs by Jerry H. Uelsmann on July 3 at the Carmel Gallery, San Carlos at 9th, 8:00 to 10:30 p.m.

Uelsmann utilizes multiple negatives, combination printing, negative "sandwiches" and "blends." He obtains surrealistic effects of considerable impact and has achieved great critical acclaim as a result.

Uelsmann is 36 and was born in Detroit.

He has taught photography at the University of Florida at Gainesville since 1960, and has earned an M.A. as well as an M.S. at Indiana University.

He has had many exhibitions at the Museum of Modern Art, and has been awarded a Guggenheim Feillowship which he used to further develop his unique approach.

The show will run through August 10 and the gallery is open 1-5 a.m. daily except Mondays.

Festival Sends 10 To Jazz Camps

Two Carmel High School students are among nine from the Monterey Peninsula and one from Fremont, to be awarded $100 each to attend summer jazz camps this year. The awards are part of a $4,500 grant from the newly-formed Jazz Education Fund of the Monterey Jazz Festival.

The students, members of CHS band, are William Rees who plays drums, son of Mrs. Dora Rees of Carmel; and Paul Hariri, who plays the tenor saxophone, son of Dr. and Mrs. Mahmud Hariri, Corona Road, Carmel Highlands.

The ten recipients of the awards will have their choice of attending jazz summer camps at the University of Nevada, Redlands University or Sacramento State College.

The $1,000 grant for the ten students is part of $4,500 the Monterey Jazz Festival has allocated this year for its new Jazz Education Fund. The program is designed to bring jazz into Monterey Peninsula classrooms from elementary schools through college.

The Monterey Jazz Festival is a non-profit musical activity now into its twelfth year.

This year's Monterey Jazz Festival is scheduled for Sept. 19-20-21 on the Monterey County Fairgrounds.

Register Now For Nursery School

The Carmel Parent - Nursey School is now accepting applications for the fall term starting Sept. 4.

Mothers who wish to enroll in the cooperative nursery school program through the Carmel Adult School can call 624-4194 for more information.

Children aged 2½ to 4 participate in the five morning per week sessions at the Bay School, or "Little Red School House' near Point Lobos.

Mrs. Rosa Doner', the director, says the aims of the program are to fulfill the social, intellectual, emotional, psychological and physical needs of today's child.

Located in the county's oldest school building, the restored little red schoolhouse and its modern addition also offer complete pre-school facilities, plus the opportunity for caring for animals.

Mothers and children help care for rabbits, chickens, and a sheep. Creative dance class is held each week, and a guitarist sings with the children on Fridays.

Youngsters attend from 9 a.m. until 11:30 a.m. daily and are transported in car pools.

Enrollment is open to 25 to 30 children and 25 mothers, who also attend Monday night sessions as a part of the Adult School program.

FIFTEEN AND OH — This is the Derek Rayne team that had a perfect season in Carmel Little League play. Managed by Gene Vandervort and coached by Gordon Miyamoto, the team won 15 games without losing one, including practice games. Unfortunately, in closing day ceremonies, some sort of reaction set in, and the 20-30 team from Pacific Grove beat them 9-4. From left, Neil Miyamoto, Greg Cater, Kim Cater, Chris Ford, Jim Challis, Kirk Erskine, Carter Fries, Jeff Vandervort, Jim Chalkley, Scott Reese, Brendon Wahl and Neil Vandervort.

Masters Concert

The foillowing major works will be featured on the Masters Concert during the week of July 3 over K-Wave Stereo (96.9)

Thurs., July 3 — 8 p.m., Richard Strauss, "Also Sprach Zarathustra," Opus 30; Haydn, Symphony No. 48 in C Major (Maria Theresia).

Fri., July 4 — 8 p.m., Grofe, Grand Canyon Suite; Ernest Bloch, America: An Epic Rhapsody; Mon., July 7 —8 p.m., Tchaikovsky, Nutcracker Suite (Excerpts), Prokofieff, Symphony No. 5 in B Flat Major; Tues., July 8 — 8 p.m., Beethoven, Septet in E Flat Major for Strings and Winds, Opus 20; Rachmaninoff, Symphony No. 2 in E Minor; Wed., July 9 — 8 p.m., Berlioz, Harold in Italy, Opus 16; Gershwin, Porgy and Bess Symphonic Suite.

BARBECUE SHOOT — More than 175 people turned out for the Carmel Gun Club's barbecue and ham shoot on Sunday at the club's shooting range. Dave and Verna Simmons presided over the barbecue pit, and skeet, trap, pistol and rifle buffs shot from early morning until 7 p.m. According to Reg Machado, who honored the affair, only ten memberships are left, and he expects those to evaporate rapidly as news of the excellent facilities gets around.

RUN IT OUT! — Jeff Vandervort of Derek Rayne cracks a sharp grounder toward shortstop and begins to leg it out in Saturday's game with the Pacific Grove 20-30 Little League team. The Rayne's lost 9-4 despite a homer by Greg Cater and a triple by his brother, Kim.

Little League All-Star Team Set Tournament Play Starts July 16

The Carmel Little League All-Star team has been selected by the managers of the six teams involved. They are Kirke Dormody, Mark Smith and Kevin Willert from Boys Town; Ron Prieto from Camera Craft; Mike Cate and Joey Gimbel from Cate Electric; Greg Cater, Kim Cater, Carter Fries, Neil Miyamoto and Jeff Vandervort from Derek Rayne; Richard Beach, Leo Clarke, and John Jinishian from P.A. Macs.

The manager of the All-Star team will be Gene Vandervort, coach, Gordon Miyamoto.

All-Star tournament play in Area IV will begin at 5:30 p.m. on Wednesday, July 16 at Metz Park in Seaside with the Carmel team competing against the Seaside American team.

Other teams in Area IV include Pacific Grove, Carmel Valley and Seaside Nationals.

The winner of Area IV will compete against the other three area champions in the district tournament at Watsonville the following week.

Two post-season minor league games have been scheduled. On July 2; the Jax Freeze farm team met the Carmel Valley second-place team at Carmel.

At 5:30 p.m., July 3, the Village Inn farm team will play the Carmel Valley first-place team at Carmel Valley. This wil bring to a close the 13th season of Little League baseball in Carmel except for the following games in the Senior Division:

Saturday, July 5 — Carmel Lions vs. U. C. Bank and Carmel Rotary vs. Carmel Kiwanis; Tuesday, July 8 — Carmel Kiwanis vs. U. C. Bank; Thursday, July 10 — Carmel Rotary vs. Carmel Lions.

Weekday games are at 6 p.m., Saturday games are at 1 p.m. and 3:15 p.m.

All Senior Division games are played on the lower field at Carmel Middle School.

Phillips Honored

In November, 1956, Maj. Gen. James H. Phillips (USAF Ret.), now of Carmel, was decorated by the French government with the Legion of Honor.

On April 16, 1969, the Congress of the United States told him he could have it.

By a strange law, no citizen of the United States may accept any official award or decoration of any foreign government without Congress passing a law allowing the recipient to accept the honor.

Sometimes Congress moves rapidly, apparently depending on the national importance of the recipient, to pass the necessary legislation.

At other times, it seems to take forever.

For General Phillips, now the holder of the impressive title "Degree of Officer of the Foreign Legion of Honor of the Republic of France," it's been a long wait.

New Hampshire Summer

Dr. Richard H. Robinson, of the Monterey Peninsula College faculty is teaching botany at the University of New Hampshire this summer.

Rod Holmgren, journalism professor, will take a workshop in offset printing at San Fernando Valley State College under a Newspaper Fund grant.

LITTLE LEAGUE TROPHIES — The Derek Rayne team of Carmel's Little League went through the season undefeated, and at closing day ceremonies Saturday, sponsors of the team, along with the manager and coach, accepted trophies to keep for the year. From left, Gordon Miyamoto, coach, Derek Rayne, Gene Vandervort, team manager, and Clive Rayne.

Christian Science Radio Program

"Facing Up to Fear of Flying" is the subject for next Sunday morning's radio program in the Christian Science series "The Bible Speaks to You". It will be broadcast over stations KGO at 7:15, KRML at 7:45 and KDON at 8:45. The way to find a new sense of safety through understanding God's power and control will be discussed.

Tea Honors Olive Walker

With the largest turnout of the year, the ladies and gentlemen of the Carmel Foundation honored Olive Walker, (Mrs. Norman Walker) with a surprise tea last Friday at the Town House.

After seven years of service to the Carmel Foundation Mrs. Walker will retire this month from her post as executive director.

Mrs. Evadene Henderson will take over the position.

Mrs. Henderson and Mrs. Raymond Coffey planned the tea, preparing the refreshments and contacting the entire membership by telephone or in person. Mrs. Margaret Corbett and Mrs. Eugene Ingalls poured.

A Town House scene, painted by Mrs. Corbett was presented to Mrs. Walker. The painting and a gift of money contributed by the members was accompanied by a scroll decorated by Mrs. Corbett and signed by all the contributors.

Mrs. Walker and her husband, who is retiring from the Naval Post Graduate School, and her mother, Mrs. Louisa Stanley, will move to British Columbia. They have had a house built on Salt Springs Island north of Victoria.

Mrs. Walker said, "I am going to retire and become a senior citizen myself. I can hardly wait to get settled. Then I can get out my motor boat and my gun. I'm looking forward to a very peaceful quiet, life."

Mrs. Henderson, a Carmel resident for 24 years, said she plans to continue the present program of services to the senior citizens of the area "with increasing activities and services."

Her duties will include overseeing the entire operation: the housing, tours, programs, personnel, employment service, and acting as liaison with the Board of Directors.

Total Concept Improvement Series

Barbara West, well known to Carmelites as an artist, is not so well known here for her international background in acting, teaching, and directing.

Mrs. West is a graduate of the Central School of Speech Training and Dramatic Art in London, and a pupil of Elsie Fogerty, England's foremost authority on voice and diction.

She started the Garden Theater, one of the first of it's kind, known as "London's Little Theater," toured with Sybil Thorndike, sang and acted at the Theater Royal, Drury Lane; spent two seasons with the Birmingham Repertory Theater, played at the International Theater Festival in Paris; and did dramatic work for the British Broadcasting Company.

She played with Laurence Oliver and Vivien Leigh in their Broadway production of Romeo and Juliet and taught Acting Technique and Speech at (The Bay Theater Drama School sponsored by the S.F. Board of Education).

A capsule series on Personal Improvement in which Barbara West shares her speech training background will be given at the Joan Willingham Studio, NE Corner of Dolores at 7th.

The series will be held in the evening, on Tuesday, July 8, Thursday, July 10 and Tuesday, July 15; or on Monday, July 21, Wednesday, July 23, and Friday, July 25.

For further information call Barbara West 624-7321 or Joan Willingham, 624-7062.

On Trip East

Mr. and Mrs. James Fyfe of Del Mesa, Carmel have been in the East for the past month. They attended graduation ceremonies of two of their grandchildren.

PINE NEEDLES

By MARGOT HYATT — Call 624-3881

Robinson Jeffers, Carmel's greatest poet, whose poetry anticipated by some 30 or 40 years the present controversy over war and the contemporary problems attending the vast population explosion, will be honored by a memorial program featuring a new film on July 25.

L'Alliance Francaise Will Observe Bastille Day

L'Alliance Francaise will celebrate France's Bastille Day on Sunday, July 13 at 5 p.m.

A no-host picnic will be held in Carmel Valley to which members and guests will bring their own supper, including beverages other than wine which will be furnished.

The "fete champetre" will be on the grounds of the California Water Company's Filter Plant, exactly two and a half miles beyond the Village, turning right at the State Division Forestry Fire Station. Signs will mark the way.

For reservations, telephone the acting President of the local Alliance, Mrs. John Dowdakin at 659-2356, or Mrs. Richard Burton at 373-0568.

Jeffers Memorial To Be Held July 25

Carmel's Tor House poet — the late Robinson Jeffers — whose controversial works speak more to this generation than to his own, will be paid tribute at what is hoped will be the first annual Jeffers Memorial program at Monterey Peninsula College July 25.

Program coordinator, Elayne W. Fitzpatrick of Carmel, summer session instructor in Philosophy at MPC, said the event will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Music Hall.

Host will be Dr. Robert J. Brophy, chairman of Jeffers Studies at Occidental College in Los Angeles, and professor of English at California State College at Long Beach.

Featured on the program will be three half-hour films on Jeffers. The latest, produced this spring by KUED-TV, the public television station on the University of Utah campus in Salt Lake City, focuses on Jeffers' poetry and its meaning for our time.

The second, "Rhapsody in Requiem," is primarily biographical and was produced by KPIX-TV in San Francisco in 1967.

The earliest, "Give Your Heart to the Hawks," was produced by David Myers of San Francisco for National Educational Television's Creative Person series. It features recordings made of Jeffers reading his own poetry in 1941 and an assessment of the poet and his works by Dame Judith Anderson and novelist Walter Van Tilburg Clark.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick said Dr. Brophy will provide critique on the Peninsula poet and read some of his poetry, and Ernest Partridge, a Jeffers enthusiast who is playing the classical guitar at Redwood Lodge in Big Sur while working on a doctoral dissertation in Philosophy, will play apropos musical selections.

Honored guests will include the Donnan Jeffers and the Garth Jeffers and their families, and the Hamilton Jeffers.

She said that seating in the Music Hall is limited to 240 persons. Tickets will be available next week, for a $1 donation to help defray expenses, at MPC and Carmel-Monterey book and music shops. Limited numbers may be reserved for purchase at the door or be obtained by mail from the office of Heinz Hubler at the

Will Observe Dance Concerts

Diane Smith of Carmel who has taught dancing at Monterey Peninsula College since 1961 will leave Los Angeles July 4th for Amsterdam.

She will spend part of the summer in England where she will observe dance schools and attend the theater in London. She plans to take her tennis racquet along too.

In Edinburgh she will visit friends and attend the annual music festival the latter part of August which will specialize this year in dance and ballet in which young people from Russia and all European countries will participate.

In the fall Diane will return to San Francisco where she will begin her sabbatical by studying phases of dance. She will continue in New York where she will attend dance concerts and Broadway shows before returning to MPC in February.

Enters Painting

Paul Patchick of Pebble Beach, senior scientist with Lytton Industries, returned last week from Denver where he attended a scientific conference at which the astronauts were present.

He took with him the abstract acrylic painting which was shown in the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art jury show last year and entered it in the National Space Art Show It was one of 30 chosen from among 300 entries.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Marble

Fischbacher-Marble Nuptials In New Canaan, Connecticut

A reception at the bride's family home on Father Peter's Lane in New Canaan, Connecticut followed the wedding of Miss Joy Fischbacher and Robert R. Marble in New Canaan on June 20.

Joy is the daughter of Mrs. Robert von Pagenhardt of Carmel Valley. She has been instructor of dressage at the Equitation Center in Pebble Beach.

Her stepfather is a Naval Postgraduate School professor of government. Her father, Christian Fischbacher of St. Gallen, Switzerland, who gave her in marriage, is president of a textile firm there.

Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Marble of Carmel Valley. His father is a rancher in Nevada and the Valley where the couple will live after their honeymoon.

The ceremony at St. Mark's Episcopal Church in New Canaan, was performed by the Rev. Grant A. Morrill, assisted by the Rev. Jack White of St. Thomas Church, Washington, D.C.

The bride wore a gown of St. Gallen embroidered material, her long veil held by a chaplet of the same fabric. Her bouquet was of stephanotis and ivy.

Miss Bye Hooper of Cambridge, Mass. was the maid of honor. Her other attendants were Miss Virginia von Hasseln of Carmel; the Misses Tania and Alexandra von Pagenhardt, the bride's stepsisters; Mrs. Chasper (Julia Marble) Fischbacher, the groom's sister, and Miss Lily Schaad of St. Gallen.

They were dressed in pink embroidered organza and carried bouquets of Transvaal daisies and stephanotis.

Elliot Norquist of Kansas City served as best man. Seating the guests were Robert E. Marble, the groom's father; Robert von Pagenhardt, the bride's stepfather; Peter Marble of Elko, Nev., the groom's cousin; and the bride's brothers, Christian and Chasper E. Fischbacher, both of St. Gallen.

Joy is a graduate of Miss Hall's School in Pittsfield, Mass., and of Briarcliff College in New York. She made her debut at the Darien-New Canaan Cotillion in 1963.

Robert was graduated from Thacher School in Ojai and attended Monterey Peninsula College and the University of the Pacific.

Robert Wells Married in San Rafael

Beside a pool filled with water lilies in the garden of the Unitarian Church in San Rafael Julia Ann Broadfoot and Robert Todd Wells exchanged hand crafted rings on June 14.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Broadfoot of Cincinnati, Ohio, recently earned her teaching credential at nearby Dominican College after receiving a degree from the University of Michigan.

Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Asahel Wells of Carmel. After going through Sunset and Carmel High School, he graduated from Monterey Peninsula College where he was student body president, taking his degree from San Francisco State.

Julia wore a short white dress with a long sleeved white lace coat. Her headpiece of white petals held a short veil and she carried an old fashioned nosegay centered with an orchid.

Mrs. Priscilla Smith of Mill Valley and Frederic Charles Wells, brother of the groom, were attendants. Flower girl was Miss Kimberly Martin, niece of the bridegroom.

A reception at the San Francisco home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Marjorie Perrine, followed.

The bride's parents were present as was her grandmother, Mrs. Florence Myers, also of Cincinnati. Mrs. Denise Martin of Carmel, the groom's sister attended.

Julia will teach next year in Mill Valley while Robert completes his naval duty.

Honeymoon through the Sierra Nevada

Powers Hall Chapel of the Naval Postgraduate School was the setting for the wedding of Vaughn Marjorie Field and John Frederik Hague of Pebble Beach which took place June 21.

The Rev. Joseph Cloonan officiated at the ceremony which was followed by a reception in La Novia Room.

The daughter of Mrs. Betty-Ann Field of Pacific Grove, the bride was given in marriage by her grandfather, Dr. Henry E. Eisfelder of Vero Beach, Fla.

John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Duncan Hague of Pebble Beach.

The bride wore a gown of peau de soie with sabrina neckline, long tapered sleeves and chapel train. A three-tiered white tulle veil which she had made herself, framed her face and fell to the floor. She carried a cascade of white carnations and jasmine.

Two fellow students in Monterey Peninsula College's International Relations Club, Miss Kelko Saito of Tokyo, Japan, maid of honor, and Fatima Rais of Palembang, South Sumatra, Indonesia, attended her.

Ruth Elizabeth Hague, sister of the bridegroom, was also a bridesmaid, and Andree Field, the bride's young sister, was the flower girl.

They wore similar floor length dresses of yellow silk, and tiny yellow veils. They carried round bouquets of yellow carnations and white roses.

Henry Robert Hague of Pebble Beach served as his brother's best man. Ushers were Edward K. Neroda of Carmel, William Hague, another brother of the bridegroom, and Leslie Field, brother of the bride.

In charge of the guestbook was Maria Kalacic, another MPC student from Dubrovnik, Yugoslavia.

Following a motor trip in the Sierra Nevada, the couple will spend the summer in Pebble Beach while John's parents are in Europe.

June graduates of MPC, the young couple will attend Fresno State College in September.

Pebble Beach for Tennis Festival

Sharing the spotlight in the Celebrity Tennis Festival (July 4-5-6) at Pebble Beach will be non-playing headliner, Barbara Kelly, last season's smash on ABC-TV.

Barbara, the Santa Cruz girl who made it big on "Hurdy Gurdy," was discovered at the Warehouse on Monterey's Cannery Row. She comes home to sing with her old group, Gary Ryan & Trio, for Pebble's July 5 dinner dance at the Beach & Tennis Club.

After dinner and the Kelly show, the party moves poolside for dancing and swimming.

Music by the Hot Coffee, portable heaters and a large bonfire on the beach are calculated to take the chill out of the evening.

Saturday evening's bash is the stellar social attraction in a long weekend of tennis and parties.

Tonight, players and friends will attend a cocktail dance hosted by Aime Michaud, president of Del Monte Properties Company, at Macomber House overlooking the golf course and Carmel Bay.

Friday's post-game activities include the annual fireworks and steak barbeque at the Beach & Tennis Club, with dancing on Stillwater Cove's pier.

This year's tournament offers mixed doubles matches for the first time. Among the ladies will be Vera-Ellen and Mrs. Edgar Bergen. Dinah Shore will play "if she's back from London in time," according to Corney Jackson, president of the Los Angeles Tennis Club and honorary festival chairman.

Newcomers from the sound stages, Clint Eastwood, Dick Sargeant, and Jack Ging, join writers Herb Caen, Art Hoppe, Ralph Storey, and syndicated cartoonist Lee Holley of "Ponytail" fame.

Last year's men's winners, Efrem Limbalist, Jr. and Jim Brown, are coming back to defend their laurels, as are Macdonald Carey, Cornel Wilde, and Fernando Roca.

Anne Hirschi is Bride in Yosemite Park

Anne Hirschi, daughter of Cdr. (Ret.) and Mrs. Melvin Hirschi of Moscow, Idaho, formerly of Carmel, and Kenneth Stevenson, son of Mr. Eugene Stevenson and the late Mrs. Stevenson of Hughson, Calif., were married by the Chaplain of Yosemite National Park at Yosemite on June 15.

Anne is a graduate of Carmel High School where she was active in Student Government, El Padre, and Carmel Swim Team. Both Anne and Ken are graduates of the University of California at Davis. Ken was outstanding in basketball and track, and is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

SALLIE PASTULA SOUNDS "A" — For her string section of gifted Lyceum students who are attending the Summer Music Camp at Asilomar, as the teacher, Fred Schlichting, director of music for Olympia School (Washington) District and Symphony Orchestra, looks on. Sallie will be a senior at Carmel High School.

Lyceum Student Musicians To Play For California Arts Commission

Twenty - five talented young musicians chosen by the Lyceum to attend a summer music camp at Asilomar in cooperation with the American Symphony Orchestra League workshop there, have been rehearsing for a program to be given there next Thursday evening, July 10.

A reception for the California Arts Commission, sponsors of the workshop, attended by some hundred first chair musicians, conductors and symphony managers drawn from orchestras all over the country to work under the leadership of Dr. Richard Lert of the Pasadena Symphony, will be held at Merrill Hall.

Mrs. Robert (Virginia) Stanton of Carmel Valley will head a committee from the California Arts Commission of which she is a member, as is Jimmy Lyons, manager of the Monterey Jazz Festival which finances the Lyceum music camp.

Co-hosting the event will be the Monterey County Symphony Guild under the chairmanship of its past president, Mrs. Cecil H. Barker of Carmel Highlands, and the Arts Coordinating Council of the Monterey Peninsula, with a committee working with its new president, Mrs. Rody Holt of Carmel.

Symphony association, is Robert Stanton, local architect; of the Symphony Guild, Mrs. Thomas A. Roper of Carmel.

CHARLES ARMSTRONG WATCHES LEADER — During rehearsal at the Lyceum Summer Music Camp made possible by American Symphony Orchestra League and financial support by the Monterey Jazz Festival. Charles will be a CHS sophomore. Behind him is cellist Steve Tibbals of Pebble Beach and Allen Boyd of Seaside playing string bass. Marianne Cleary, CHS junior, also plays cello.

LYCEUM FLUTISTS—Peri Shefik, (left) Middle School, and Marilyn Draper, of Pacific Grove High School. Naomi Norwick (unshown) is CHS sophomore.

On the Wednesday evening before the reception, parents of the students will be able to hear the students play the program they will play the following evening.

A reception for members of the American Symphony Orchestra League workshop was given jointly last Wednesday evening by the board of directors of the Monterey County Symphony Association and the Symphony Guild.

Akemi Ito Makes 'Sweet Charity' Top Stage Fare

"Sweet Charity," which opened Friday at the Circle, is a great example of what can be done when a master playwright like Neil Simon takes a shopworn plot — in this case the dance hall girl of questionable morals, but a heart of gold and good intentions — and turns it into a play.

Add to Simon's frothy touch the music of Cy Coleman and the lyrics of Dorothy Fields, both master craftsmen as well, and "Sweet Charity" becomes pleasant to listen to and funny as well.

Much of the credit for the success of "Sweet Charity" must go to director Zelma Weinfield and choreographer Dale Lefler.

There are two outstanding dance number in the production, The Rich Man's Frug and Rhythm of Life. Both are complicated, but both come off smoothly under Dale Lefler's touch. Admittedly, a couple of more performances will smooth out a few jerky moments in the Rhythm of Life dance, but I don't think you'd notice it unless you were looking for something to carp about.

Zelma Weinfield is without doubt one of the finest directors on the peninsula, particularly with musicals.

She does a smashing job with "Sweet Charity," which needs strong direction to make it go. The actors have responded with outstanding performances, performances that make this a truly amusing play.

The part of Charity, the heart-of-gold dance hall girl calls for a dancer essentially, and a singer secondarily. Akemi Ito is both. She is essentially a dancer, graceful and lissome, and is a fine actress in this broad comedy part. While she doesn't "belt" a song, she handles the ones she sings adequately, and she's a joy to watch.

Mark Oman as Oscar was hilarious as Charity's neurotic lover, who falls in and out of love with her in the course of the play.

Undoubtedly the highlight of the entire production is the scene in the apartment of Vidal, played with professional aplomb by Robert Heater. He sings with authority, his acting is smooth and confident, and the scene with Charity in a closet and Ursala (Mary Mabe) and Vidal making up after an argument is certainly the funniest in the play.

Altogether a delightful evening's entertainment, and well worth calling 624-2669 for reservations.

"Sweet Charity" plays Wednesdays through Saturdays at the Circle, and on July 11, will alternate with "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE BIBLE LESSON

"The Lord is good to all: and his tender mercies are over all his works." * This verse from Psalms is part of the Lesson-Sermon on "God" to be heard in all Christian Science churches Sunday.

A related passage from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy states: "God is not moved by the breath of praise to do more than He has already done, nor can the infinite do less than bestow all good, since He is unchanging wisdom and Love." **

Where's all that money you were going to save?

UCB has a plan that guarantees you'll save

For all your good intentions, you can't seem to save a nickel to save your soul. Paychecks come. Paychecks go. And still there's little or no money in the bank for savings.

United California Bank knows how hard it is to save. That's why we have a plan that guarantees you'll save $10.—$20.—$30. a month or more, and hardly miss it. It's UCB's Automatic Savings Plan. Just decide how much you want to save each month. UCB deducts that amount from your UCB checking account and adds it to your savings.

Most savers tell us, it's virtually painless. And at UCB, your savings always earn the highest bank interest rate permissible by law.

Isn't there something you've wanted to save for anyway? Like Europe. It's as easy as saving just $2.00 a day for one year at UCB! Whatever your goal, sign this coupon and send it along today. You can save. You will save.

We guarantee it.

EDITORIAL AMAZEMENT — It's amazing the lengths to which public relations flacks will go to get their stuff in the papers, even such monoliths of public service as the Pacific Telephone Company. They're plugging the new Trimline telephone, so here's a pretty girl (Mrs. Jackie Cozby of Monterey), a boat, which naturally leads to the bathing suit, and the Trimline, which most readers have forgotten about already. Anyway, here's what PT&T says about the Trimline:

The phone of the future is now available in Carmel.

Called the Trimline, the snazzy new instrument is the first totally different telephone to be introduced in this area by Pacific Telephone since 1949.

"Unlike our other telephones, the new Trimline set has the dial built right into the receiver," said Don Peters, PT&T manager in Carmel. "In other words, the dial comes to you."

Available in either wall or desk models, the new Trimline set features an illuminated, space-saving dial, as well as a convenient "recall button" that provides instant dial tone without returning to the phone's switch-hook.

"That means you could make a series of phone calls without ever changing your position," said Peters.

The compact Trimline also has a longer receiver cord as standard equipment, a bell loudness control, and anti-slip base for the desk model, and a large selection of decorator colors.

"For more information, just call your service representative at the PT&T business office," said Peters.

KRML Honored By Heart Association

The Central Mission Trails Heart Association held its fifth annual meeting last night in Monterey. The members of the association elected a slate of officers to serve in the coming twelve months, headed by Basil I. Allaire, M.D. of Monterey as president and Charles F. Ziert of Salinas as chairman of the board. James W. Knight, M.D. of Salinas was chosen president-elect to take office next year. Vice presidents are Mrs. Beatrice Fitzbuck, R.N. and Matt Ahmet, both of Santa Cruz. Loren E. Smith of Monterey and Mrs. Evelyn Logan of Salinas were elected to the offices of treasurer and secretary.

At the meeting — a dinner at the Del Monte Hyatt House — awards were conferred on individuals and organizations which aided particularly in the fight against heart disease. Those honored included the Hollister and Watsonville Rebekah Lodges, Radio Station KRML, the Monterey Peninsula Hotel Association, Canterbury Woods, Forest Hill Manor, Hartnell College, Mrs. Mary McCabe, Mrs. Jewel Patton, Miss Barbara Palmerton, Mrs. Evelyn Logan, Mrs. Beatrice Fitzbuck, Cabrillo College, Loren E. Smith, and Robert G. Van Horne, M.D.

Wood Appointed to Two Committees

Assemblyman Bob Wood (R-Monterey County) has been appointed to the Assembly Committee on Agriculture and the Committee on Natural Resources and Conservation.

Speaker Robert Monagan stated "because of Assemblyman Wood's great expertise in the field of agriculture and conservation the Assembly today voted unanimously to extend the memberships of both committees so that the appointment could be made."

"I am grateful to the members of the Assembly allowing the rules to be changed that I might serve on the two committees of my choice; representing the primary interests of Monterey County," Wood said.

Speaker Monagan, in making the appointment, praised Wood as "knowledgeable in both fields and capable of making a great contribution to California."

Because the Salinas Valley is one of the richest farm areas of the state, Monterey County is fortunate to have Assemblyman Wood on the Agriculture Committee. The late Assemblyman Alan G. Pattee was previously chairman of the committee. Assemblyman Wood, by serving on the Natural Resources and Conservation Committee, will be in a position to protect the great natural beauty which abounds in Monterey County.

New Officers Set For Local Kiwanis

At the Carmel Kiwanis luncheon Thursday at the Pine Inn, Al McConnell, member of Kiwanis for 46 years, welcomed as new member, Dale Hill, owner of Surf Tides lodge.

Web Downer announced the following officers for 1970: Lief Erickson, president; Dick Shaw, vice-president; Hal Apger, second vice-president; Court Hanson, treasurer; and George Baxter, secretary.

New board of directors will include Jack Belangee, Ben Bretheim, Chuck Dawson, Art Gumbrell, Frank Potter, Sam Salerno and Tom Wood.

Antique Show Set At Fairgrounds

The 12th Annual Monterey Peninsula Antique Show and sale, sponsored by the St. Mary's-by-the-Sea Episcopal Church of Pacific Grove will be held in the Exposition Hall of the Monterey County Fairgrounds on July 18, 19, 20. The hours will be noon to 9:00 p.m. on July 18 and 19; noon to 5:00 p.m. on July 20.

More than 20 dealers from all parts of California will display and sell authentic antiques. Many pieces are of museum quality.

Antique furniture, lamps, silver, and china, as well as pewter, porcelain, and glass will be exhibited.

The snack bar which has been so popular during previous shows will operate continuously during the three days of the show. Homemade salads and sandwiches, cold drinks, coffee, and the now famous pies and cakes prepared by the women of St. Mary's-by-the-Sea will be offered again.

The general chairman of the Antique Show is Mrs. W. H. Light.

PARTY PLANS . . .

by Phyllis Jervey

"Barbecues, Unlimited"

The setting for a barbecue party can be any place under the wide blue sky. Set it up in your back yard, on your patio, at the beach, or a picnic ground.

A lively cook-out is the natural way to entertain a group. The casual impromptu atmosphere lends a special warmth. It is one of the most successful forms of Americana to share with friends from foreign shores.

Turning the spit over a fire-pit isn't the chore it used to be. Today's spits are electrically run. We recall with longing a shady green palm grove in beautiful Haiti. The American and British colony gathered often at this charming spot come sundown. Pure white sands and transparent turquoise water made our pre-supper swim absolute bliss.

It was in just such a West Indian corner that we enjoyed the most delightful of gypsy meals. The menu varied, but there was always a huge driftwood fire assembled by an "army" of small native boys. They never failed to be on hand at our picnics, ready to assist in any work for coveted centimes and their share of the barbecue.

After supper, with a full moon making a golden path across the darkened water, we sang around the glowing logs. The little boys entertained us with Haitian songs and jungle dances. Then a midnight dip before reluctantly heading for home.

One of our favorite menus for these Beach Barbecues was the following (and remains the same today).

Plantain Chips with Rum & Colas
Barbecued Lamb or Pig
Tropicale
Stuffed Tomatoes
Avocado Mayonnaise
Buttered Toasted Rolls
Coconut Macaroons
Beer Coffee

Barbecued Whole Lamb

Order a small dressed whole lamb, ready for a pit-roast. Rub lamb with fresh lime juice, salt and cracked pepper. Put a spit through the lamb at a distance from the fire. The spit should turn for 30 min. to the pound. This was gradually brought nearer the fire so that it would brown evenly. The drippings were caught in a pan and combined with the following barbecue sauce with which the lamb was constantly basted. Delicious morsels were carved and served on halved buttered toasted rolls.

Barbecue Sauce, Tropicale

Mix 2 cups sauteed onions and 6 garlic cloves with 2 T. salt, 2 cups red wine vinegar, 1 t., each, powered ginger, nutmeg, allspice and celery seeds, ½ t. cayenne; 2 cups canned tomatoes and 3 T. Worcestershire sauce.

Caramelize enough sugar to darken a quart of water. Add the above mixture and bring to a boil. When cool, add sugar to taste, without making really sweet. Make at home and take to beach in thermos. Shake well before using and use a clean dish mop to keep the slowly turning lamb well moistened.

Roast Suckling Pig

Sometimes a suckling pig was the piece de resistance. This took much longer to prepare and would be started in advance of the picnic by the bachelors (of which, happily, there was a plentiful supply on that West Indian island.)

A slow fire of charcoal was kept going in a pit dug in the sand for 6 hours. The dressed and split pig was placed on an iron rod or a special grate. When browned, it was mopped with a sauce of vinegar, cayenne pepper, salt and black cracked pepper. It was cooked thoroughly and served in slices with some of the same sauce used for lamb.

Often we would simply fry thick slices of cold baked ham in a large skillet over a grid. When the ham began to crisp at the edges, it was put to the side of the skillet. A sauce of dry mustard, brown sugar and red wine was added to the fat in the pan. The ham slices were turned over in the sauce and served on toasted buns.

Plantain chips are typically West Indian, taking place of potato chips. They may be bought in cans in the U.S.A. These were munched during the whole evening and teamed with draft beer. A large barrel of the latter was kept cold with gunny sacks on the edge of the sea.

Stuffed Tomatoes

Combine 1 cup chopped olives; 2 chopped hard-cooked eggs; ½ cup finely chopped celery and ½ cup broken cashew nuts. Salt lightly and stir together with a mayonnaise made stiff by beating in a mashed, peeled avocado. Enough for 12 firm large tomatoes, with insides partially removed. Keep chilled.

Fresh coconut macaroons or a large coconut layer cake was relished. Then steaming coffee with or without a splash of local rum added. Ah, to be back in the tropics!

For us Carmelites, you might find it more to your fancy to have a Lamb Roast Mexican, cooked at home, and served patio style . . . or taken to the beach in a covered roasting pan and kept hot over a low bon-fire on a grid.

Conference of California Historical Societies Holds 15th Annual Meeting

by Betty Hoag
Research Director, Carmel Museum of Art

Four Monterey Peninsulans attended the recent three-day, 15th annual meeting of the Conference of California Historical Societies which was held in San Diego.

They were Professor and Mrs. A. Boyd Mewborn of the Monterey History and Art Association; Mrs. Dorothy Ronald, curator of Colton Hall, who was re-elected regional president from Monterey, San Benito and Santa Cruz Counties, and myself.

In addition to regular business meetings and installation of new officers, numerous addresses were given. One of the most notable was by William T. Alderson, Director of the American Association for State and Local History, who had come from Nashville, Tennessee, for the conference. Seminars were held on various subjects such as historical writing, guided tours, placing of historical markers, oral history programs, tracing genealogies, and organization of the rapidly-growing Young Historians' associate groups.

Interest of California's leading historians was naturally centered around topics pertaining to the State's bicentennial celebration, which already has been dramatically initiated this year by San Diego.

Everywhere in that city souvenirs are offered for sale — San Diego bicentennial commemorative medals of bronze; paper mache "gold" conquistatores' helmets; pennants; badges.

The San Diego chapter of the Historical Society, host for the conference, provided gracious entertainment.

A tour was taken to current excavations on the hill nearby Junipero Serra Museum, where students are uncovering the remains of the Old Presidio and a church.

Another visit was made far up the valley to beautiful Mission San Diego de Alcala, earliest mission to be founded in California.

On another day, conference members visited San Diego's "Old Town State Historical Park" where early-day buildings have been restored in authentic detail.

One of the most interesting is a small office of the 1850s. Lnmber for its framework had probably been brought around Cape Horn by clipper ship. All of the press equipment and household furnishings appear exactly as they must have been in 1868 when the San Diego Union newspaper was first published there.

A Mexican "Fiesta 200" is in full swing at Old Town. It is a cultural arts and trades fair with entertainment for everyone — concessions for youngsters, art exhibitions, bazaars, ballets, marionettes — even instruction in bull-fighting!

An all day bus tour was made to the gold mine village of Julian, where the entire town was in Bicentennial dress, every citizen and store decked in frontier array.

A bronze medal celebrating Julian's 100th birthday was offered for sale in stores, as was a local-history book with its printers' ink scarcely dry on the pages.

Next year in June, members of the conference will hold their annual meeting on the Monterey Peninsula, and at San Diego great interest was expressed for our local preparations in celebrating the Bicentennial.

We are indeed fortunate in having our wonderfully preserved and restored Presidio Church in Monterey and the Carmel Mission, as well as the charming adobes which are easily accessible to tourists: they probably express Spanish-Mexican days more perfectly than any other structures in the state.

In addition, since the Peninsula has always been a mecca for artists, the Carmel Museum of Art on Dolores Street, offers a valuable service in presenting pictures which were painted here during the 19th and early 20th centuries.

Special historical exhibitions will be given at that museum for the 1970 birthday. The current show recreates opening day at the Art Gallery in Monterey's old Hotel Del Monte in 1907.

Eric Garrison Will Complete Unusual Eagle Scout Project At Camp Amigos

Eric Garrison of Scout Troop 32, sponsored by the Carmel Rotary club, will complete an unusual Eagle Scout project this summer by becoming a volunteer aide-de-camp for the intergrated day camp, Camp Amigos.

Eagle Scout projects must be in the field of community service and difficult enough for a scout to demonstrate leadership and the ability to live the scout spirit.

"It's really great," said Eric. "So far, I know I will be substituting for a vacationing counselor for one week, and helping prepare lunches for another week. But I guess if you call being a jack-of-all-trades proving leadership then my big chance will come during the week Camp Amigos is located at Big Sur.

"So far, I think they have me down for life guard, guitarist, K. P. extraordinaire; accolyte, bugler, water boy, emergency cook, herpetologist, and coach of the girl's horse shoe pitching team.

"Seriously, I hope to be studying integration problems with a special emphasis on analyzing the progress of Operation Headstart this next year as a tutorial English project, so I feel this opportunity to work at Camp Amigos will prove especially meaningful to me."

Eric completed the difficult Episcopal God and Country Boy Scout award last November in a ceremony at All Saints Church and also completed a cycling badge by bicycling with his brother more than 1,000 miles to Denver.

Reviews for Young Readers

By Allene Fremier

We have just received a delightful version of Aesop's fables, selected and adapted by Louis Untermeyer.

The lively and witty illustrations by A. and M. Provensen make this a winner which will be enjoyed by all ages. For instance, the story of "The Lions and the Hares" is told briefly. The hares are not being treated as equals by the lions and they demand their rights. The lions listen to the fine speech delivered by one of the hares and then tells the hares that when hares get what lions have, namely sharp claws and long, sharp teeth, they can share the other things lions have.

In the illustration the hares are grouped together carrying protest signs, such as "We want justice and dessert, "Lettuce unite! We want what's coming to us," and "The bill of fare must be changed." The full-page illustrations contain their own dialogue.

At the completion of each fable, the moral of the story is given. The stories are the familiar ones and so are the morals, but this version makes them new.

Johnny-Cake by Joseph Jacobs is illustrated by Emma Brock and is a reprint.

It is the familiar story of the gingbread man, but in this version the fox pretends to be hard of hearing when Johnny-Cake is telling him how many people he outran. Of course, when he gets close enough to the fox, the fox snaps him up in the "twinkling of an eye."

A timely book for the older readers is Robert Liston's Tides of Justice, The Supreme Court and the Constition In Our Time.

He explains the Constitution in regard to the law and discusses the conflicting interpretations given by the Supreme Court. He tells about specific cases which have dealt with the difficult subjects of religion, civil liberties and civil rights.

To give an idea of what this book covers, some of the titles of the chapters are: "The limits of power," "The law becomes color-blind," "Thou shalt not pray in school," "Law enforcement and justice in conflict," "One man, one vote" and "Obscenity, privacy and other puzzles." Now is the time to be well-informed on the history of the Supreme Court to know the facts of some of the recent important decisions.

I found an older book which I don't remember seeing before and which looked fun. It is called "Please Share That Peanut! A Proposterous Pageant in Fourteen Acts Concerned with the Exquisite Joys and Extraordinary Adventures of Young Ladies and Gentlemen Engaged in the Pleasurable Practice of Sharing."

I won't tell you anything more about it, except that it is written by Sesyle Joslin. Come and read it yourself.

PARTY PLANS

Lamb Roast Mexican

Six-lb. leg of lamb, boned, rolled and tied; 1 cup Beaujolais wine; ¾ cup orange juice; ¼ cup, each, chili sauce and water; 1 red onion, chopped; 2 T. each brown sugar and olive oil; 1 T. chili powder; 1 T. cumin seed, crushed; ¾ t. crumbled dried oregano; salt and black pepper to taste.

Place lamb in a deep glass or enamel pan, or Teflon will do. Combine rest of items and pour over meat; let stand in refrigerator for 24 hours, turning meat occasionally. Drain meat; place on rack in an open roasting pan on a trivet. Roast in 450 F. oven for 15 min.

Reduce heat to 350 F. Pour marinade over meat, and continue roasting for 2½ hours or until done to your liking. 140 degrees on meat thermometer for rare, 175 degrees for well done.

Baste often during roasting. If pan juices cook down quickly, add a few tablespoons boiling water to prevent burning.

At serving, skim fat off pan juices with kitchen syringe. Serve as sauce with meat. Enough for 8-10.

Big Idaho baked potatoes just wait for that aromatic sauce. Our special coleslaw teams admirably. Combine shredded green cabbage, green pepper, pimiento, radishes, celery seeds and unpeeled cubes of red apple.

Cover with sour cream seasoned with cayenne, salt, paprika. Keep chilled. As Fourth of July lasts three days and nights this year, do eat hearty!

Violinist, Violist and Mezzo-Soprano Featured in Second Bach Concert

The second concert of the Carmel Bach Festival's 32nd season, to be held Saturday, July 19 at 8:30 p.m. will feature violinist Eudice Shapiro, violist Walter Trampler and mezzo-soprano Joanna Simon.

The Festival Orchestra will be under the direction of the Festival's conductor Sandor Salgo.

Maestro Salgo has programmed an evening of unusual musical interest and variety which will open with "Passacaille," transcribed from a piece for lute by the German lutenist, Le Sage de Richee.

Miss Shapiro will return to Carmel for the third year from her post as head of the violin faculty at the University of Southern California and will join internationally renowned viola virtuoso Walter Trampler in a performance of Mozart's Sinfonia Concertante in E-flat.

This infinitely detailed work is rich in graceful, melodic interplay between the solo instruments.

Joanna Simon, mezzo-soprano of the New York City Opera, will be making her debut with the Festival this year and will be featured in several brilliantly dazzling concert arias to be announced.

The concert will conclude with the Haydn Symphony No. 102 in B-flat major.

One of Haydn's last three symphonies, this work is full of lyricism and instrumental delights and the finale is notable for its display of the composer's inventiveness and keen wit.

The "Jassacaille" and Haydn Symphony No. 102 will be repeated at the July 26 concert. On that program the Concerto for Violin No. 7 in B-flat major by Viotti will replace the Mozart "Sinfonia Concertante" and Miss Simon will sing Cantata, "Vergnugte Ruh" rather than the concert arias.

Information concerning these and other Festival concerts and recitals may be obtained at the Carmel Bach Festival office, Room 3 Sunset Cultural Center or by writing to Box 503, Carmel and enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

An Ad in The Pine Cone Is a Better Value

FIRST TICKET SALE — Miss Mary Louise Waterbury of Carmel buys the first ticket to the July 9 performance of "Oliver!" at Cinema 70. Norbert Kammer, partner in Carmel's House of Peace, which is sponsoring the special benefit performance for Project Hope, is the ticket seller. The House of Peace is located on Dolores near 5th.

Ticket Sales At House of Peace for "Oliver!" To Benefit Project Hope

Tickets for the July 9 performance of "Oliver!" may be reserved through House of Peace, Dolores and 5th, Carmel, 624-5550.

Proceeds from ticket sales for both the matinee and evening performance will benefit Project Hope, the floating medical center which has brought the message of health and hope to millions around the world.

In this time of great agitation and confusion the Carmel Baha'i community and House of Peace thought it best to focus on some of the things the people of this country are doing right.

One of these is Project Hope, a non-political, privately supported mission of international goodwill, which is manned to a great extent by volunteer medical personnel who close their own offices to devote their talents to helping those who need help desperately.

With this volunteer help, the Hope can operate on a budget of $5 to $6 million annually. This is infinitesimal compared to the amount of goodwill that is generated by the S.S. Hope.

The prospect of a second ship may soon be realized and then hopefully a third so that there will be one each for South America, Asia, and Africa.

This means that the amount of private support will have to be increased in the future.

For this reason, the Baha'is of Carmel and House of Peace urge anyone planning to see "Oliver!" to see it July 9.

Most of the cost of the benefit tickets will be tax deductible and will be receipted.

Tickets are available through House of Peace.

Movie Review

Oliver! — This Academy Award winner is based on the Charles Dickens novel Oliver Twist. From the London musical stage and directed by Sir Carol Reed. At Cinema 70.

Goodbye, Columbus — A bittersweet comedy about a young man and a rich college girl. Ali McGraw and Richard Benjamin star. At the Steinbeck.

If — A provocative British film about an English boy's boarding school. An excellent film that may be interpreted as allegory. At the Hill.

Paper Lion — Author George Plimpton actually played with the Detroit Lions football team to get this story. Alan Alda plays Plimpton. At the Marina Auto Movie.

Charly — This is the role for which Cliff Robertson won an Oscar for the best actor of 1969. Eerie stuff about experimental brain surgery. At the Marina Auto Movie.

Gone With The Wind — Greatest picture of all time, say some. It's much better with 70 mm film and stereophonic sound. At the Village with Clark Gable and Vivien Leigh still in the starring roles.

Stage Review

Ernest In Love — One of Oscar Wilde's better pieces set to great music by Lee Pockriss with book and lyrics by Anne Crosswell. The songs are gay and sparkling, the pace rapid and the entire production scintillating. Direction by Charles Thomas, and with a brilliant cast, "Ernest In Love" is a happy, happy, happening. Dinner and theater reservations are a must. Secure both or either by calling 624-1661 or 624-2321.

Sweet Charity — Now playing at the Circle. Current Broadway smash with music by Cy Coleman, lyrics by Dorothy Fields and book by Neil Simon, who, it seems, can not write anything less than an SRO hit. Akemi Ito plays Charity in this rollicking comedy about a loving, tender-hearted dance hall girl (you know the type) who seeks romantic happiness. At the end of the play, she's still looking, but you know she'll find it. Reservations are recommended at 624-2669.

Hot Millions — At the Regency. Peter Ustinov against the computerization, which makes for a truly funny piece of film. Bob Newhart, Karl Malden and Maggie Smith also.

Che! — The most interesting part of this picture is the almost uncanny resemblance of Omar Sharif to Che Guevara. Jack Palance as Castro. At the Golden Bough.

Hannibal Brooks — Whimsey about an elephant and her keeper escaping into Switzerland during WWII. Oliver Reed is the keeper, Michael J. Pollard is a kookie guerilla fighter. At the Grove.

Guns of the Magnificent Seven — Sequel to "The Magnificent Seven" with the addition of George Kennedy. Action, and lots of it, takes place in Mexico. At the Grove.

Finian's Rainbow — One of the great Broadway smash musicals of all time comes to the screen 20 years later with a freshness and verve that was the mark of the original. Fred Astaire, Tommy Steele, Petula Clark and Keenan Wynn. At the Valley Cinema.

Carmel Legion To Honor Coast Guard

Carmel American Legion Post 512 will offer a salute to the Coast Guard Monday night, July 7, according to Pat O'Malley, newly-elected post commander.

"We of the Legion are grateful for the assistance that the officers and men of the Monterey Coast Guard station have given us in the past," O'Malley said. "Accordingly, we have invited all interested citizens to attend the meeting Monday night and join us in expressing our appreciation."

There will be a showing of a movie depicting the activities of the Coast Guard during World War II, and a short talk on the work of the Coast Guard in time of peace will be given by Chief Boatswain's Mate James Figueira, O'Malley said.

All friends of the American Legion are invited to attend the meeting, which will begin promptly at 8 p.m.

Buddy Rich Band Set for Festival

The Buddy Rich Band has been signed for the 12th annual Monterey Jazz Festival, scheduled to be held this year Sept. 19-20-21.

Festival general manager Jimmy Lyons said drummer Rich and his band will perform during the Sunday evening concert Sept. 21.

The Monterey Jazz Festival is held in the 7000-seat outdoor arena on the Monterey County Fairgrounds. It consists of five concerts; Friday, Saturday and Sunday evening and Saturday and Sunday afternoon.

The Rich band is the second group of artists announced for this year's Festival. The first was the Cannonball Adderley Quintet, also set for the Sunday eveing concert.

Lyons said he expects to announce other performers for the Festival soon.

In the three years since its formation the Buddy Rich Band has become one of the most sought-after big jazz aggregations in the country.

Although Buddy has performed at the Festival before, notably with the Harry James Band a few years ago, this is the first time Festival patrons will have the pleasure of hearing this remarkable drummer fronting his own band on our stage.

Rich is almost legendary now. He has brought the art of the jazz drums to a level of perfection and excitement that is unexcelled.

Season tickets for the 12th Annual Monterey Jazz Festival are on sale now at less than box offices prices and may be ordered by mail from the Monterey Jazz Festival P.O. Box "Jazz," Monterey, California 93940.

Sam Colburn Art Foundation Show

In its monthly presentation of local artists the Carmel Foundation will display the paintings of Sam Colburn at the Town House, Lincoln near 8th, starting July 2.

Colburn, an honorary life member of the Carmel Art Association, has prizes at the Monterey County Fair for his works.

He enjoys painting things to do with this area and with nature — landscapes, farm things, seascapes, the wharfs.

He has also produced murals. He said, "As soon as the Republicans take down their tent on Dolores, you'll be able to see one of them on the outside post office wall. If anyone's interested, it's for sale."

Of his watercolors at the Town House display, his favorite is one called "Flowering Tree."

The show will be open to the public for the month of July.

Shoppers in Finland Find Good Buys And Design in All Manufacture

Visitors to Finland have long known that the things to buy are glass and ceramics, the word having spread as a result of numerous prizes won by Finnish designers at international exhibits and fairs.

Less known is the fact that today "good buys" in Finland also cover shoes, textiles, rugs, dresses, toys, tableware, suede jackets, furniture, umbrellas, jewelry and scores of other items.

This wide variety confirms the observations by American design critics that Finland is a country with a unified tradition of quality in design, a country where architects are recognized as true creators and respond by taking leadership in all aspects of design, from the smallest teacup to the largest city or regional plan.

A shopping spree in Helsinki can begin at 7 a.m. in the picturesque Market Square at the harbor, where everything from flowers, vegetables and fish to wearing apparel, small articles of furniture and paintings are sold from open-air stalls.

The stalls disappear at 1 p.m., so an early visit is best, and one can get revitalized at the nearby coffee shops before embarking on further shopping adventures.

For a preview of the best in Helsinki's shops, visit the Finnish Design Center at Kasarmikatu 19, a permanent exhibition. Nothing is sold here, so it's strictly for browsing, but its personnel will tell you where to buy things you like.

The unofficial design center of Finland is Stockmann's, one of Scandinavia's largest department stores. It sells everything and operates a large export service which will ship home for you a sauna stove, reindeer steaks or the most delicate china and glass with equal efficiency. The store has 70 different departments.

Fashion-conscious women now make a bee-line for the boutiques featuring ready-to-wear in the brilliant colors and simple lines characteristic of Finnish design. Best known in America is Marimekko, whose dresses, accessories and handprinted textiles are sold in its own shops in several cities.

Shoes by Palmroth, now featured in better shops in the U.S., suede coats and jackets and Finnish jewelry also are popular.

Open July 4th, 10-4 and Sunday, July 6th

City, City, Bang, Bang... Where and Why... Our Fourth of July

by Jewel White

Do YOU really know all of the facts behind our DECLARATION of INDEPENDENCE? Astrology and Numerology do. In fact, they have shown us that some of the long-believed sagas of our great-grandfathers (of the famous Fourscore and Seven) couldn't possibly be as told.

When I charted this date, I, too came up with some contradictions, so I hied myself again to the Carmel library, which is a rich source of knowledge, where Violet Weisiger was a real help to me in finding the here-tofore "facts."

Mainly that 56 men waited patiently in John Hancock's barn from noon of July 3rd until the small hours of the morning of July 4th, 1776, to sign some papers they had drawn up and voted on. Each had pledged his life, fortune and sacred honor to carry out the terms of these papers, and the long wait was to give Benjamin Franklin time to chart the most propitious moment for a new Nation to be born. He was the most famous astrologer of that day, and his abilities were well appreciated. So, Mr. Hancock sat, pen in hand, waiting.

At exactly noon, he received the signal to sign. He hastily scrawled his well-known "John Hancock" on the documents and put aside the pen. Next was John Penn, Sam Chase, Thomas Jefferson, then old Ben himself.

The time was exactly noon, which gave the numerological number of 11 . . . which is an indication of the highest degree of health, wealth and fortune.

And we have been a nation of great wealth, health and competative business, also a number of leadership and lofty ideals, of all things beautiful.

So, aren't we glad that good old Ben selected that moment he did . . . and, just think, we were always told that it was signed at 1 p.m., which just isn't true.

These facts, brought out by astrology can be viewed (under glass) in the Hall of Records, Washington, D.C. . . and, I bet most of us never knew it.

So fire your firecrackers and send aloft your pretty night-time torches . . . and now that we know WHAT and WHY we are celebrating, I'm sure you will feel a surging sense of pride in our famous forefathers who were smart enough to leave us such a fabulous legacy.

Los Padres Fire Closure July 1

High fire hazard areas of the Los Padres National Forest were closed to public entry on July 1.

Forest Supervisor Willaim H. Hansen said that entry into certain portions of the fire closure will be allowed under the Restricted Area Permit system. All Closed and Restricted areas will be posted at entry points and at intervals along their boundaries.

Permits to enter these restricted areas may be obtained at designated Forest Stations near these areas.

Hansen said that many portions of the Los Padres National Forest remain open year around for public recreation and other uses.

Fire closed areas are for public safety as well as for fire prevention and will remain in effect until rains in the late fall lessen the fire danger.

Book Fair July 10 At All Saints'

Celebrating California's Bicentennial as its theme, the Book Fair of All Saints' Church, on Thursday, July 10, will again offer books for summer reading, for gifts, and for collectors. The sale will be from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. in the Parish Hall, Lincoln and 9th, Carmel.

A snack bar will serve sandwiches, beverages, and homemade cakes from 11-2 in the patio of the church. A special feature will be a garden sale of cymbidiums, bonsai, and planters, also in the patio. Baby-sitting service will be available for browsers and buyers.

This annual event is sponsored by St. Bede's Guild to support the Vera Millis Memorial Library at All Saints', as well as to assist the All Saints' Day School, York School, and other projects.

For sale will be books (hardbound and paperbacks) in all categories, as well as collectors' magazines, sheet music and records, pictures and prints, and library accessories.

To carry out the Bicentennial theme, a special booth will display and sell items for Californiana "buffs," works by California authors and artists, books about California people, events, and places. There will be many one-of-a-kind collectors' postcards and scenic and historical posters, ranging from old Wells Fargo "reward posters" and other gems of the gold-mining era, to old film classics posters, and scenic travel and Sierra Club posters.

El Frieda Liese will autograph copies of her book, "Curious Customs of Carmel," proceeds from the sale of which will be donated to the fair.

Salable items are still being accepted and may be taken to the Parish office 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., or picked up by calling Mrs. Donald Taugher (372-7248(of Mrs. Alfred Cooper (372-9267), co-chairmen of the fair.

They will be assisted by Mmes. I. Norman Downer, Robert Reynolds, Even Whittlesey, James Downey, Sinclair McClellan, Ferol Lawson, Louise Townsend, Beth Sherman, Eleanor Guttridge, Robert Forbes, J. E. McEldowney, and Mr. James Neill and Col. Clarence Bowen.

Life Saving Class

Anyone interested in joining the evening senior life saving class may contact the Carmel Recreation Department at 624-3342 for registration. Needed to start the class are 15, according to swim director Ken White.

Family swimming at the high school pool on Mondays and Wednesdays between 7 and 8:30 p.m. has begun, he said.

Parcel Post Limit Up To 40 Pounds

The parcel post weight limit will be raised to 40 pounds for shipments between first-class post offices after July 1, Assistant Postmaster William Woolsey announced today.

The maximum parcel post weight limit will be increased from 30 pounds on shipments between the larger post offices in the third through eighth parcel post zones. (More than 150 miles.) On packages sent locally and to offices in parcel post zones one and two, the ceiling has been 40 pounds. The maximum size of packages sent between all first-class offices remains 72 inches in combined length and girth.

The size limit on parcels sent to or from smaller offices, rural or star routes, military post offices, and all Alaskan and Hawaiian post offices stays at 70 pounds, with a combined length and girth of 100 inches, Assistant Postmaster Woolsey added. Public Law 89-593, enacted Sept. 20, 1966, authorized the postal service to increase weight and size limits on shipments between larger cities. On July 1 of 1970 and 1971, the length and girth limits are scheduled to rise to 78 and 84 inches, respectively, on shipments between first-class post offices.

Yoga for Health

Starting Tuesday, July 8, Yoga for Health, under the auspices of Richard Hittleman, author and television instructor, begins its summer interim session at a new location in the Carmel Woman's Club Building — San Carlos and 9th, Carmel.

Instruction in elementary, intermediate and advanced yoga will be offered on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

A new course in meditation will be given Thursday evenings at 8 p.m.

FALSE GODS

The chief idols in the desecrated temple of mankind, are none other than the triple gods of Nationalism, Racialism and Communism, at whose altars governments and peoples, whether democratic or totalitarian, at peace or at war, of the East or of the West, Christian or Islamic, are, in various forms and in different degrees, now worshipping. Their high priests are the politicians and the worldly-wise, the so-called sages of the age; their sacrifice, the flesh and blood of the slaughtered multitudes; their incantations, outworn shibboleths and insidious and irreverent formulas; their incense, the smoke of anguish that ascends from the lacerated hearts of the bereaved, the maimed, and the homeless.

Gen. W. O. Ryan Speaks To Hi-12

"We face a hostile ideology, global in scope, atheistic in character, ruthless in purpose and insidious in method. Unhappily, the danger it poses promises to be of indefinite duration."

These were the words of General Dwight D. Eisenhower in his famous farewell address which also mentioned the possibility of an unwarranted influence by a "military-industrial" complex.

Major General William Ord Ryan was the speaker at Carmel's High-12 club last Monday, and told the club about his own early history in aviation which began in 1914 just after graduating from West Point and a short time in the Cavalry.

The General concluded his talk with the above quotations by President Eisenhower.

He said the balance of Eisenhower's address included:

"To meet it successfully, there is call for not so much the emotional and transitory sacrifices of crisis, but rather those that enable us to carry forward steadily, surely, and without complaint the burdens of a prolonged and complex struggle — with liberty at stake.

"Only thus shall we remain, despite every provocation, on our chartered course toward permanent peace and human betterment.

"A vital element in keeping the peace is our military establishment.

"Our arms must be mighty, ready for instant action, so that no potential aggressor may be tempted to risk his own destruction."

Army Medics Needed

The U.S. Army is offering qualified young men and women the opportunity to become specialists in medical care and treatment, according to Sergeant Jose Garcia, local Army recruiter for the peninsula.

High school graduates with interests in medical laboratory procedures, x-ray equipment operator, dental assistant and operating room procedures are invited to take advantage of specialized courses offered by the United States Army.

A guarantee before enlisting is available for all programs after qualifications are met. Further information may be obtained at the U.S. Army recruiting office room B4, post office building in Monterey or call 372-4742.

Adult Art Classes

A summer class at the Carmel Adult School in beginning painting is in progress, and will run until Aug. 1.

The class, which is being taught by Carmel seascape artist Girard Aken, is held on Monday mornings from 9:30 until 12:30 in Room 16 of the Sunset Auditorium.

WINNERS — Gold medalists Bonnie Banker, 15, and Susie Selfridge, 16, of the Cypress Swim Club are the new 1969 Jr. Pacific AAU synchronized swimming duet champions, having won that title last weekend at the Santa Clara International Swim Center.

Bonnie Banker, Susie Selfridge Win Pacific AAU Synchronized Swimming

In one of the tightest competitions of the season, Bonnie Banker of Carmel and Susie Selfridge of Monterey, both members of the Cypress Swim Club, won first place in the duet division of the 1969 Junior Pacific AAU Synchronized Swimming Championships at the Santa Clara International Swim Center last weekend.

In preliminary competition, the Cypress duet was tied with Cynthia Anderson and Sunny Horstmeyer of the San Francisco Merionettes, but the figures competition broke the tie, giving the Banker-Selfridge combination a narrow lead of .672 going into the finals.

Banker and Selfridge increased that lead in the final routine competition to defeat the Merionettes by 1.573 points, a full 5.700 points ahead of the third place duet, also from the Merionettes' team.

San Francisco Merionette Joan Lang handily won both the solo and the figures competition, while the gold medals in the team division went to the Santa Clara Aquamaids.

Next competition for the Cypress mermaids will be on July 12 and 13, when the Cypress Swim Club in cooperation with the Monterey Recreation Department, will host the 1969 Senior Pacific AAU Championships at the Monterey Peninsula College pool.

Pyrotechnics for July 4th

goes the surf in the front yard of one of the handsomest newish homes in the Carmel area — custom-crafted in every detail, decorated to perfection, and planned for marvelously separated activity areas. Even has a separate apartment, den, or hobby room on a lower floor. You'll live with the beach and the incredible Point Lobos - Carmel Bay view. It would challenge duplication at $160,000.

BANG!

-up home for a family. 6 to 8 bedrooms, lots of baths, huge kitchen and family room, separate-level master suite, close to all schools and downtown Carmel (stop chauffeuring those kids everywhere!) and best of all, the price is only $49,500 for this great old rambler on huge lot.

SIZZLE!

Do you do this every time your old house needs repairs and maintenance? Treat yourself to something new this year: If you want to walk to everything in Carmel, see a new home that's really built, including full insulation and equally important attention to every other detail, for $57,500. Or if Pebble Beach is your beat, see our great new home with all those wonderful magazine-ad features for just $65,000.

WHISH!

And you're in the village or on the beach or at the library or Carmel High School — all just down the pike a little piece from our Shakespearean flavor "castle". This is real old English charm and ideal for a family at an ideal family price of just $49,500.

SPARKLE!

This white house behind its while paling fence really has it. Immaculate condition with a well-bred, well-kept air, the ideal cottage for a small family, close by Sunset Cultural Center. Fresh on the market, too, and you definitey should see it if you're looking in the $35,750 price range.

POP!

yourself into a small house for a change, but have yourself a really nice yard and garden along with it. We've just listed a most attractive two-bedroom for $32,500, and the most adorable one-bedroom cottage (and guest house) in Carmel for $29,500. Pop into our office and ask for details.

SWISH!

We have two of the swishest luxury homes in the area — one of the old stone haciendas, completely updated, with its own key to Point Lobos and wonderful Gibson Beach, if you like informal, hacienda living, in one of the area's most interesting homes. Price is $225,000; ask for brochure. Or consider Pebble Beach where we have an utterly charming, Old English house with New American features, appliances, decorating materials throughout, and a stunning ocean view. It's just listed and $169,500.

FLARE!

If you have it, and it's spelled "f-l-a-i-r", you just could be the right proprietor for any one of three fascinating shops we have for sale in gourmet and kitchen equipment lines. Ask Barbara about them.

TWINKLE!

Every little star — and you'd see them every single night — from fog-free Carmel Valley. If you live alone and love it, we have your house, a really fresh approach to architecture, finishing materials, floor plan, especially if you need a studio room besides the bedroom. Walk to Carmel Valley Village, too, and live with the view of the beautiful Santa Lucias from all windows. Best news is the $37,500 price.

ZOOM!

Send up your rockets and flares — nobody will notice in your really secluded six acres a few miles up in glorious Palo Colorado Canyon. Dramatic stone and rustic A-frame with all the latest conveniences and a paved road almost to your door. Buy it now before the owners add a swimming pool for only $59,500.

BURN!

To create your very own home? Then what you need is our Lot Sampler which describes many building sites from Pebble Beach to the southern end of the Sur Coast. Free, of course. Just ask.
